San José, Calif. – Starting today, Southwest Airlines is relaunching its daily non-stop service between Norman Y. Mineta San José International Airport \(SJC\) and Reno-Tahoe International Airport. The daily flight departs San José at various times throughout the week aboard a Boeing 737 aircraft, arriving in Reno, Nevada in the morning to early afternoon timeframe.

City Pair	Day	Departs	Arrives	Frequency
San José to Reno	Sunday	8:45 a.m.	Approx. 9:45 a.m.	Daily
	Monday/Thursday/Friday	8:00 a.m.	Approx. 9:00 a.m.	Daily
	Tuesday/Wednesday	7:30 a.m.	Approx. 8:30 a.m.	Daily
	Saturday	11:00 a.m.	Approx. 12:00 p.m.	Daily

“We are thrilled that our partner, Southwest Airlines, is resuming service between Reno-Tahoe and Silicon Valley,” said John Aitken, Director at Mineta San José International Airport. “Today’s return represents renewed access to the beautiful Sierra Nevada, and we look forward to providing our customers with more service options in the future.”

Southwest Airlines temporarily suspended service between San José and Reno in April 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic and related travel declines. To book a nonstop flight from San José to Reno on Southwest Airlines, visit www.southwest.com.

SJC still requires a face covering for all passengers on airport property and onboard aircraft, which is mandated by the Transportation Security Administration until January 18, 2022. Passengers can continue to do their part by social distancing from others; washing and/or sanitizing hands frequently; and staying home if sick and avoiding travel.
